Figure 1: (a) Post contrast T1 weighted sagittal section and (b) post contrast CT scan of the brain axial section show a large lobulated heterogeneously enhancing mass at the floor of fourth ventricle with multiple peripherally enhancing nodules causing gross hydrocephalus.